CENTRAL PACIFIC RAILROAD.

Yesterday we made some statements respecting the progress and prospects of the "Union Pacific Railroad" and of the "Eastern Division." It remains to show what forwardness the "Central Pacific Railroad of California" is in, that being the connecting link on the western side of the Rocky Mountains.

From the geographical configuration of the country on the eastern and western sides of the Mountains, respectively, in which the railroad construction is progressing, it would naturally be inferred that larger actual results in miles were attained on this side than on the other. Such is the fact. On the eastern side the two lines are pushed, as yet, through level districts, requiring little grading to make ready for the superstructure. On the western side the line runs up and over the grand Sierra Nevada chain of mountains. With a heavier force of men and teams much slower progress is made than on this side. Nearly twelve thousand Chinamen are at work on the road-bed in California. Next spring the contractors expect to put on ten thousand more, when their operations will not only reach the summit of the Sierras, but stretch on to the plains and into the valleys of Nevada.

Already the track is completed to within sixteen miles of the summit. Starting from Sacramento the distance to the top of of the Sierras is one hundred and five miles, of which eighty-nine are completed. On such a line heavy mason work is inevitable. The crossing of Canon Creek, twenty-eight feet in highth, and fifty-four in breadth, is a very excellent piece of such work.

Sometime next year it is expected the work upon the "Union Pacific," on the eastern slope, will reach the foot of the Rocky Mountains, and then the real difficulties in construction must be grappled with.

IN consequence of changes in dams, made in conformity to a law of the last Legislature, the people who live along both branches of the Susquehanna and its tributaries are anticipating the enjoyment of fresh shad next year, as in the olden time. Alas! it is quite probable their hopes will not be realized.

Two important statements are made respecting Secretary Stanton; one that he has accomplished the filling of army appointments in such manner as to secure undoubted loyalty in that arm of the service; the second, that he has not sought, and does not want a foreign mission.

THE LIBERATION OF VENICE.—Great preparations are being made at Venice to celebrate the entry of the King of Italy into that city. The Bucentaure, the historic galley upon which the Doges of Venice married the Adriatic, has been reconstructed and magnificently ornamented. The King will be conducted to the Ducal Palace along the Grand Canal, traversing Venice in its greatest length. Among the patriotic manifestations that will take place is one that is calculated to produce the most profound sensation. One of the most beautiful women of Venice, entirely clothed in mourning, and covered with chains, will be presented to his Majesty at the moment of his coming in sight of the city, but, in place of the keys of the city, the Podesta will offer to the King a symbolic axe destined to strike off the chains of slavery. At the same instant the shackles of the captive and her mournful vestments will disappear at the sound of salvoes of artillery and of popular acclamations. Venice, personified, transformed into a goddess of liberty, will then present to the King the traditional cushion upon which will be found a golden key.—Express.

—The Paris correspondent of the New York Home Journal writes under date of October 10th: "The Imperial lady, who has made it the fashion, by august example, to dye the locks of a carrot color, and bedaub the complexion with red and white liquid cement—hear it, ye graces, and tremble—the peerless Eugenie, alas, has grown fat. Yes, it is the plain, unvarnished truth, and consequently, now, no one can be belle in Paris unless fat, fair, and forty-five. It is not, however, the figure alone of Her Majesty which has taken to embonpoint; her features have, alas, lost their delicacy, and she has become "moon-faced" as any Eastern houri. The on dit is that she is "au desepoir." The health of the Emperior, however, is by no means so satisfactory as that of his Imperial partner, for, while she is daily increasing in size, he is dwindling away, a martyr, it is said, to a very dangerous and painful disease. But, though so great a sufferer, Napoleon still attends to public business."

—A criminal trial is in progress before the Circuit Court at Adrian, Michigan, in which the attempted murder of Aaron Smith is charged upon his son, his daughter, and his son's wife. His daughter, it is charged, administered the poison in the form of arsenic, mingled in the old man's tea, doing this at the instigation of the son John and his wife. The daughter is a girl but thirteen years of age. The old man recovered from the effects of the arsenic, and is very desirous that his children should escape the penalty of the law. He even went so far as to take his daughter secretly, by a roundabout way, to a neighboring county and seated.

There has been great trouble, and the indications are of the most serious kind.

MEXICO.

Napoleon and Maximilian to Take Hands Off—A United States Protectorate—Important Cession of Territory.

NEW YORK, October 30.—The following is the Times' dispatch referring to the reported treaty between the United States and the Mexican Liberal Governments: Colonel Lewis D. Campbell, the United States Minister to Mexico, has left this city with credentials addressed to the Juarez Government, and with full instructions conforming in every respect with the tripartite arrangement previously communicated to you, between the United States, France, and the Republic of Mexico. Under the arrangement now perfected, Napoleon is to commence the withdrawal of the French army from Mexico next month, and although he has a year from that time to complete the evacuation of Mexico, it is more than probable that the whole army will be withdrawn by or before the 1st of January next. With the withdrawal of the French army Maximilian takes his departure, and the farce of an Empire on the North American continent is ended. The administration undertakes to extend to Juarez's Government in Mexico a protectorate which is to be operative, however, only in case of emergency. In plainer terms, our army on the Rio Grande, and the fleet in the Gulf, are to be held in readiness to assist Juarez should such assistance become necessary to him in establishing his authority as President of the Republic, and in bringing to work in full vigor the machinery of a Republican Government.

The administration has determined to send with Minister Campbell a military officer of high rank, eminent abilities, and sound judgment, clothed with power to act in the emergency referred to. Lieut. Gen. W. T. Sherman is now spoken of in this connection, and also Maj. Gen. W. S. Hancock. The responsible mission, it is strongly indicated, has been tendered to Gen. Sherman, and there is reason to believe that he will accept it; but, should he decline, General Hancock will undoubtedly be sent.

It is no part of the plan to move any United States force into Mexico until an occasion shall arise to render such a resort necessary, but it is hoped that the attitude assumed by the United States thus publicly in sending an officer to Mexico, clothed with this power, will be sufficient to overawe the various political leaders of that country and the numerous rival factions that beset the land, and to lead to an unanimous submission to and support of the only Government that has any pretension to regularity and constitutionality, or any ability to establish and maintain itself.

In consideration of the friendly offices thus assumed by the government of this country toward Mexico, the government of that country, which is thus recognized and established, agree to cede to the United States the territory, as heretofore communicated to you. The precise boundary of the territory thus to be ceded it is not possible at this time to give, but the future southwestern boundary line of the United States will probably leave the Rio Grande at or near the point where it now does, but, taking a more southerly course, will run in a straight line to the Gulf of California, striking that gulf at a point south of Guaymas, so as to include that important seaport within the limits of the United States.

We then gain the whole of the Peninsula of Lower California, with the more valuable portions of the States of Sonora and Chihuahua with all their immensely rich deposits of precious metals, the undisturbed navigation of the gulf of California, and much shorter and more practicable route to the pacific coast.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

Proposals for Building the Levee—The Cotton and Sugar Markets—General Ortega and General Sheridan.

NEW ORLEANS, October 30.—The steamer Oriental sailed for Boston to-day.

The Board of Levee Commissioners have issued proposals for building twelve hundred thousand feet of levee.

Cotton is unchanged, with sales of 2,600 bales; Middling is nominal at 38c. The receipts for the last four days were 8,670 bales against 7,780 bales for the corresponding days last year. The exports were 3,380 bales.

Gen. Ortega, who has been here for some days, left this evening by the steamship St. Mary for Brazos, St. Iago. He refuses to regard himself as included in Gen. Sheridan's denunciations. In his letter on Mexican affairs to Gen. Sedgwick, he insists upon his constitutional claims to the presidency of the republic. He says if he could think that Gen. Sheridan thought of setting aside the constitution of Mexico, or decide upon his titles to authority under it, he would formally protest against his assumption.

Gen. Sheridan leaves to-morrow morning for Texas.

The Trinity Property.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A meeting of the heirs of Anneke Jans was held in Brooklyn last evening to hear the report of the committee who were recently appointed to confer with their counsel with regard to a settlement of their claims with the Trinity Church corporation.

The committee reported that the result of the interview with their counsel had been highly gratifying, and that he had stated that the church corporation favorably regarded a compromise with the heirs, and he deemed it probable that a settlement would be made by December next. This course has been adopted, it is said, mainly in consequence of the refusal of certain tenants to pay rent, and if payment was enforced by a suit at law that suit might show that the title was unfounded. The heirs of Annette Jans now feel confident that their claims will be recognized, and regard this proposal to compromise as the entering wedge which will enable them to recover from the corporation all the immense property amounting to nearly $200,000,000 in value held by the Trinity corporation.

Fenian Inquiries.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A great many telegrams pour in at the Fenian headquarters inquiring in regard to the action of the Fenian authorities in the event of the execution of the prisoners. The annexed dispatch to President Roberts and his reply will serve as specimens of the great number that arrive and are answered:

CINCINNATI, Oct. 29, 3 P. M.—To President Roberts, New York:

We hold a grand civil and military meeting to-night. What is best to be done? We have our military force thoroughly reorganized; if you call for one hundred thousand men for three months they would be ready at once. Answer this immediately.

J. W. FITZGERALD.

To J. W. Fitzgerald, Cincinnati:—Get your men in military trim instantly. We will soon teach Canadian cowards whether they can hang a minister of God or not. If they touch a hair of his head they will have to run further than Booker, the Queen's own pedestrian.

(Signed,) WM. R. ROBERTS,
President Fenian Brotherhood.

A Discovered Plot.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The Times gives credence to a rumor, which has been for some time current around City Hall, that a plot had been concerted by certain members of the Board of Aldermen to remove their President, Mr. John Brice, and who would, while acting as Mayor, in the absence of Mr. Hoffman, proceed to remove the Street Commissioners of the Croton Board, which are very lucrative and influential offices. According to the charter the Board of Aldermen may act as Mayor when the Mayor is absent beyond three days. The conspirators waited until the three days had expired, keeping the matter of course very secret, and had everything arranged to meet at noon and remove Mr. Brice and appoint another presiding officer. Mayor Hoffman was telegraphed to, he being then in the interior of the State. The message was received at 11 P. M. The Mayor, however, took the first train, giving up two important engagements, traveled four hundred miles, and arrived at his office about one hour the meeting of the Board could take place. Of course the meeting was postponed indefinitely.

Trial of the Baltimore Commissioners.

BALTIMORE, October 30.—The trial of the Police Commissioners continued to-day, and the witnesses summoned for the defense were present in large numbers. The trial was continued up to three o'clock, with the intention of holding a night session. It is expected that the case will be brought to a termination by to-morrow night; the evidence went to prove that the boxes used at the late election were the same as used for several years past, that boxes for the rejected votes were sent to all the wards, and that twenty-seven were returned with rejected votes.

Fenian Meeting at Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 30.—The various Fenian circles of this city held an enthusiastic meeting to-night, denouncing the British government and calling upon the United States to interfere in behalf of Lynch and McMahon.

There were few cases of cholera to-day, most of them occuring to people from Cincinnati.

Death Warrant Signed—Cholera.

HARRISBURG, October 29.—The Governor has signed a warrant for the execution on December 4th, of Peter Bota for the murder of his wife.

There was a fatal case of cholera here yesterday.

Pennsylvania's Official Majority.

HARRISBURG, PA., Oct. 30.—A letter from the Secretary of the Commonwealth, states the following as the complete official vote for Governor: Geary, 307,274; Clymer, 290,096; Gen. Geary's majority, 17,178.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Official Mexican Dispatches—Indian Superintendent Appointed—Bank Changed—Ortega and Mexico.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30.—The Mexican Legation received to-day, official despatches dated Chihuahua the 1st inst., containing the following information:

President Juarez issued a decree on the 28th ult., repealing the decree dated Monterey, August 11th, 1864, in which certain inducements were offered to foreigners who would emigrate to Mexico to join the Mexican army. Now the Mexican government reserves to itself the right of fixing the terms on which she will accept the services of foreigners in every case according to circumstances.

The official paper of the Mexican government published Gen. Martinez's report of the several successes obtained by the Liberal forces in the States of Sonora during the month of August last.

A communication from Gen. Lozada is also published, showing that this General, who had at the beginning joined the French, and Maximilian is thoroughly disgusted with them and has made up his mind to desert their cause. He advises his countrymen who have taken sides with the invaders, to abandon that cause. This is a very great blow to Maximilian as Gen. Lozada was one of the main supporters of the empire, and a man of much influence in his district.

The General Land Office has directed the approval of 200,000 acres of land to the State of Wisconsin, on account of the Green Bay and Lake Michigan Canal.

H. R. Denman, of Kansas, was to-day appointed Superintendent of Indian Affairs for the northern superintendency.

There has been several cases of Asiatic cholera during the past week.

The Bank of the State of Missouri, in St. Louis, has been changed to a National bank, with the title of "The National Bank of the State of Missouri," and received its certificate of authority to-day. Its capital is $3,410,300. No circulation will be issued.

There is no truth in the rumor that the Mexican Consul at New Orleans had applied to General Sheridan for permission for General Ortega to pass to Mexico. The Mexican Consul sent to-day a dispatch to Minister Romero, denying the charge, as General Ortega intends to issue a pronunciato against the Mexican government. He cannot have the support of the Mexican officials.

The Fenians and the Sentenced Prisoners—Defiant Resolutions.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30.—At a meeting of the Fenians of Philadelphia, held at Logan Hall this evening, to express their sentiments on the conviction and sentence of Colonel Lynch and Rev. John M'Mahon, the following preamble and resolutions were offered by James Gibbons, Chairman of the Committee, and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The conviction and sentence of death passed on Colonel B. Lynch and Rev. John M'Mahon in a Canadian court is another evidence of the brutal and vindictive spirit of perfidious Britain, and in keeping with that bloody code of laws that has been inflicted by her usurpations on the people of Ireland during the last seven hundred years; and whereas, Chief Justice Wilson, one of the representatives of British Royalty on this continent, in passing sentence, read a lecture full of that court and that hypocrisy peculiar to English philanthrophy, on the heinous crime of making war on a people who never did them any harm, while the government he represents, has been making relentless, bloody and exterminating war on the people of Ireland for generations; a people who never injured England; on the contrary, educated her innocent kings when her people were buried in Saxon barbarism; and whereas, the learned Judge while filled with holy horror at the so called crime of Col. Lynch and others, forgot, in his seat, the aid and comfort given by his government to dissolve this Union and to overthrow this government; he forgot the depredations of the Alabama, the St. Albans' raid, and the other infamous machinations worthy of that malignant hate evinced by England since the formation of this Government.

And whereas, The invasion of Ireland in the year 1169 by the English freebooters, whereby cities, villages and hamlets were committed to the flames, and inhabitants put to the sword or driven to caves and mountain fortresses—a crime committed against all law, human and divine—and every generation of our race since that melancholy event has protested against that invasion with arms in their hands, therefore, be it

Resolved, That in view of the foregoing facts the invasion of the British territory by the Fenian Brotherhood of the United States, was a legitimate act of war on the part of an oppressed people; that the time to strike is a question of policy; whether it be seizing the colonies of the oppressor, or sweeping her commerce from the seas. It was the assertion of this God-given right, to regain their long lost liberties and restore their ancient nationality, that nerved the arm of the Fenian soldier to strike to the dust the hated flag of England on Limestone Ridge.

Resolved, That we look on the trial, conviction and sentences passed on Colonel Lynch and others as a challenge to the Irishmen of America, and accept it in the spirit intended, and we pledge our lives, liberty and sacred honor, to meet the issue as becomes a race that never accepted the yoke of the Norman robber.

Tightening on the Escaped Fenians.

CORNWALL, C. W., October 30.—Hon. J. H. Cameron, Crown counsel, applied for a writ of habeas corpus. It takes the three Fenians from here to Toronto to be tried with those now at Toronto. The Crown counsel also moved for sentence of outlawry against Mike Murphy and other Fenians, who escaped by breaking jail. The names of those sent to Toronto are Keys, Hartwell and Kelly.

Railroad Detention.

PEEKSKILL, N. Y., October 30.—The Albany train, due at Peekskill about nine o'clock this morning, ran off the track two miles south of Peekskill, owing to the washing away of the track by the storm. Three cars were thrown from the track. No passengers were seriously injured. Both tracks will be obstructed for several hours.

Important Fenian Address.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—It is stated that President Roberts will soon issue an important address to the Fenian Brotherhood in relation to the sentence of Lynch in Canada, and future organization. There has been much excitement and activity at the Fenian headquarters in this city to-day.

Ex-Rebel Gen. Dick Taylor Visits Jeff Davis.

FORTRESS MONROE, Oct. 30.—Ex-rebel Gen. Dick Taylor arrived this morning from Washington on a visit to Jeff. Davis. He remained in the fort all day, and went north to-day.

The Steamer San Francisco.

CHARLESTON, S. C., October 30.—The steamer San Francisco, from Greytow, Nicaranga, for New York, with seven hundred and seventy passengers, put in here to-day for coal. She will resume her voyage to-morow.

Reporters' Work.

"He must, of course, possess the ability to report any kind of a speaker when required; the ability to cut a speech one-half, and yet give all that was really said; the ability to report a loose, rambling speech, and make a short and concise one in place of it. Then he should be able to do 'descriptive writing,' which is as important and necessary on a daily paper as reporting. He must be able to horrify a murder, intensify a fire, whiten a saint blacken a sinner, out-talk a lawyer, make a street fight interesting, and so paint the doings of the scandalous, and the blockheadedness of blackguards as to make it fit reading for the family circle. But he must do this, and more too, at most unreasonable hours, and, to most people, under most perplexing circumstances. He must be able to collect his thoughts in a political caucus; look devotional while reporting the minister's prayer; and be able to suppress his indignation while reporting the testimony of a witness whom he knows to be telling lies. He must be able to write when half dead for want of sleep, and to drive when nine-tenths exhausted. He must have no will of his own but to work for the dear news-loving public, and be able, under all circumstances, to suppress an oath when dunned for 'more copy' by that most irritable of imps, the printer's devil. The able reporter must be master of himself and prejudices. If he be a Radical, he must, on paper, be absolutely just to a Conservative. If he be a Democrat, he must be incapable of misrepresenting the extremist Radical. Second and third rate papers permit their reporters to misrepresent opposition speakers. First class papers insist upon the fullest justice being done by their reporters; all the misrepresentations necessary the editor claims the prerogative of inventing leaders.

How He Went a Hunting.

A Philadelphia paper gives the following little hunting adventure: "A man by the name of O'Rourke, on Saturday, undertook to go shooting for rail birds. In reaching for his powder-flask he dropped it into a tub of water. This by no means disheartend him from enjoying the half holiday he had taken from the foundry of North, Chase & North, in which he is employed. He poured the powder into a frying pan and dried it over the fire. The result can be easily guessed at. Mr. O'Rourke was blown into the yard with his head so singed that he looked like a prize fighter. Luckily for him he received no bodily injury. His hair, beard and eyebrows were taken off as closely as if by a razor."

Appointment.—General J. Irvin Gregg, of Lewisburg, has been appointed Colonel of the 8th United States Cavalry. The regiment is to be raised in California, and the General will repair to that State in a short time. The General was formerly commander of the Second Brigade, which was composed mainly of Pennsylvania troops, and whose courage, endurance and fortitude was displayed on the many hard-fought battle-fields of the Army of the Potomac, and was one of the commissioners appointed by General Sheridan to investigate the cause of the riot in New Orleans.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON THIRD PAGE.)

An Earnest Lover.

Antonia Nicola, as his name indicates is from Italia, and like a great majority of his countrymen, he is gifted with a heart capable of loving or hating, to, in the latter case, a dangerous extreme. Antonia, who earns a frugal living by vending fruit through the streets during the day and playing the harp at a drinking saloon in the evening, fell in love a short time since with a fair specimen of Celtic beauty, named Anna Helligan, who resided in the immediate neighborhood of the saloon referred to.

At first Anna received Antonia's advances very graciously and held out strong hopes to him that their love might at length be crowned by connubial honors. This inspired Nicola with confidence that his hand should meet with a ready acceptance, but judge of his surprise when avowing the sentiments of his heart to the object of his affections, he was met by a flat refusal to have anything at all to do with him.

At first the rejected lover implored his Dulcenia to change her reply—to give him some hope, but his pleadings fell on stolid ears, and found no response in the heart whose love he craved. Seeing she was dead to pity he determined to resort to force, and grasping the unsuspecting Anna in his arms he attempted to carry her into the street through the saloon crowded with men. While in transit she was liberated by the landlord of the house, who, terribly exercised at Nicola's conduct, cast him rather unceremoniously into the street. Miss Helligan, fearing further violence, appeared before Alderman Humbert and made oath against her admirer for assault and battery and surety of the peace.

The accused was arrested yesterday afternoon, and in default of the necessary bail was committed to jail to await a hearing on Friday next.

Getting Into Shape Again.

The falling of the roof at Wilkins Hall, last summer, did more damage than appeared at the first. Severe as was the sousing received by everything throughout the building, above stairs and below, the worst misfortune was to follow, long after the rubbish of the fallen roof had been cleared away, and the moisture of the inundating floods had dried off. At least this was the case concerning the Pittsburgh Gymnastic Association. The Gymnasium is situated in the topmost story of the building and of course received the first and fullest benefit of the crash and the torrent. Much of the most important apparatus of the partment was located directly under the fallen portion of the roof, and was damaged to a greater or less degree. But the most serious trouble to the Association has been the long delay experienced in repairing the fallen roof. During all the time that has elapsed since the accident, the Gymnasium has been in an unfit condition for use, the repairs having ceased as soon as the roof was made water tight. Exercising under such circumstances was a cross that few of the members were disposed to bear, and in consequence the attendance and the interest have fallen off lamentably. We are rejoiced to see now, however, that the work of reconstruction is being pushed forward, and in a few days the Gymnasium will be in better shape than ever. Then we hope to see a full return of the members to the scene of their accustomed evolutions.

Read the Truth.

Reader! listen one moment, and we will tell you what will do you more good than whole pounds of pills and gallons of Bitters—the former compounded of aloes, and the latter having for their basis some alcoholic stimulant. We mean "Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher." It is a pure distillation of herbs and barks, each of which are selected by careful and experienced hands, and with a thorough knowledge of the medicinal virtues of each.

Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher will bring into harmonious play all the flagging organs of the body, and it will impart to the blood a healthy plasticity, so as to render the invasion of disease almost impossible. It will render the system proof against the perils of fall and autumnal sicknesses and fevers, and other paludal diseases. Thousands of lives and millions of treasure could be annually saved to mankind, by the use of Dr. Keyser's most extraordinary Blood Searcher, before whose curative power all bitters' pills, and potions, of whatever name, sink into nothingness.

Read the cures made in the city of Pittsburgh alone, by Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, and you cannot fail to be convinced that it stands to day without a rival in the class of remedies known as tonic and restorative.

Ask for Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher, and be careful to take no other. Price $1 per bottle, or six bottles for $5, at 140 Wood street.

A Grand Concert.

A correspondent, writing from Blairsville, says: "We have had the extreme pleasure of attending a grand concert given here on Monday night under the auspices of Prof. Herman Knake, the talented organist of the Pittsburgh St. Paul's Cathedral. In every respect the concert was a grand success, reflecting the highest degree of credit upon the ladies and gentlemen appearing upon the programme. The audience, notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was large and appreciative."

We are pleased at this new evidence of Prof. Knake's ability, as we justly esteem him as one of the most brilliant and talented young musical artistes of our city. We trust he may favor a Pittsburgh audience with a concert under his auspices, knowing that if he should consent to do so a rich musical treat would be in store for our readers.

The Weather.

The weather during the last few days has been very variable, now treating us to bright rays of sunshine, anon to copious showers of rain, and again to cold, chilly, gusty spells, above all the most disagreeable. Especially are those days last mentioned disagreeable to ladies, whose elegantly arranged toilets—the result of unremitting toil before the mirror—are tossed and tumbled about by the capricious wind with a recklessness that we must say is deserving of the severest censure by the comparative few who delight not in the revelations thus indiscreetly made. The feminine noses that on leaving the parental roof, rejoiced in a bountiful coating of lilly white, or Laird's bloom of youth, are suddenly metamorphized by the chilly air into blood red objects that have a decidedly watery tendency. But enough, the weather is too disagreeable even to deserve the slightest notice.

Abandoned.

On the 16th day of July last a certain Catherine Porter was united in the holy bands of wedlock with a youth named Charles Porter, who, according to the story of the former, refused, after the third day of their married life to live with her or to contribute directly or indirectly to her support. After importuning him to live with her until she became totally exhausted by her persuasive efforts she gave up all hope of peaceably having her masculine property restored to her, and appeared before Alderman Strain, yesterday, and preferred a charge of abandonment against her defaulting protector. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

A Deserved Compliment.

We are in the receipt of a number of late foreign papers, in which we observe extensive clippings from the clever pen sketches of European scenes, manners and customs, furnished our contemporary, the Dispatch by D. O'Neill, Esq., its talented editor. This is a deserved tribute to the ability of our fellow-townsman, and as his letters have also been liberally appropriated at home by the leading journals of the country, he may well feel proud of the recognition in America and Europe of his descriptive powers and versatile style of composition.

Dr. Aborn.—We hope that none of our readers will rank this truly experienced and practical physician and surgeon, with the perambulating quacks who have hitherto visited the city. Dr. Aborn intends to make Pittsburgh his permanent headquarters, and while he makes no extraordinary promises to cure every person who is afflicted with any of the thousand ills to which flesh is heir, still he justly claims success in the treatment of a great per centage of his patients. His rooms are at the Merchants' Hotel.

Their Consistency.—The Greensburg Herald, referring to the fact that the Democrats voted a negro in East Hempfield township, Lancaster county, and one in Harrisburg, says that "in the borough of Greensburg, on the day of the last election, a Democrat marched 'a man of African descent' up to the polls, and had him vote the whole Democratic ticket though he was not a resident of the district even. Yet John Dick, a Democrat, did that thing, and a Democratic election board took that vote.

Small Oil Fire.—On Friday afternoon, the oil tank of well No. 3, Holmden Farm, caught fire by means of a spark from the smokestack of the engine house. The tank contained about thirty barrels of oil. The tank and the oil it contained was all the property that was destroyed. The engine house was torn down, and the derrick caught fire once or twice, but the flames were quickly extinguished by a few men who actually risked their lives in arresting the progress of the devouring element.

Naval Deserter Captured.—Knowlton, a deserter from the Commodore Perry, revenue cutter, was overhauled by policeman Turley, of Erie, a few hours after he had left the vessel. Knowlton was bargaining with a sub-railroader, i. e. a brakesman, for a contraband passage on a freight train.

Smashed a Buggy.—Jeremiah Dressler appeared before Alderman Humburt, yesterday, and made oath against John Brown for maliciously breaking a buggy belonging to the defendant, in the borough of West Pittsburgh. A warrant has been issued for the arrest of the accused.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—The grand scenic drama of the "Three Guardsmen," which has been placed upon the stage at this popular place of amusement, at an expense of thousands of dollars, drew another crowded house last evening. We will not attempt to describe the beautiful and expensive scenery, but it will suffice to say that never has anything more grand been witnessed in the theatrical line, in Pittsburgh. The cast of character is in keeping with the production of the thrilling drama. We trust none of our readers will fail to witness the "Three Guardsmen" while it is upon the boards of the Opera House.

PITTSBURGH THEATRE.—Mr. John Brougham, decidedly the most clever actor upon the American stage, continues to prove a great attraction at the Theatre. He is very ably supported by the excellent stock company at the "Old Danry." A splendid bill is offered to-night.

BENEFIT OF MRS. HEDDRICKS.—Our readers will not forget that the grand complimentary benefit tendered Mrs. Henry Heddrick, the widow of the musician of the Theatre orchestra, who was killed by the negro last week on Fifth street, takes place this afternoon at the Theatre. All the prominent musicians of the city have volunteered their services upon the occasion, while Mr. Brougham appears in one of his favorite pieces. Every cent of the proceeds go to the widow for whom the benefit is to be given. Admittance to all parts of the house fifty cents. No reserved seats.

ARABIAN NIGHTS.—Masonic Hall was crowded to excess last night, the excitement caused by the wonderful production of the "Arabian Nights" by no means abating. In addition to the novel entertainment, which of itself is a great inducement, the proprietor shares a portion of profits each evening with his audience by distributing costly gifts.

Something New.

On a large triangular lot, between the Fort Wayne road and Pasture lane, and cornering on the West Common, Allegheny, there was erected during the past summer, a large building, resembling a Yankee barn. We could see that a branch of the railroad had been extended into the lot, and a ponderous crane also embellished the ground and piles of stone from the Freeport, Baden and McKeesport quarries had accumulated, and there appeared columns of smoke and steam ascending from the "barn." An ominous "No Admittance" deterred us from discovering the inside mysteries. Yesterday the veil was lifted, and Mr. Frederick Altvater, Senior, partner of F. Altvater & Co., proprietors of the establishment, politely showed us through. We found a fine steam engine giving motion to shafting, belts and pulleys, by which one gang of fifteen and another of fourteen saws were rapidly sawing up two huge stones from the quarries aforesaid into boards and planks, alias hearthstones for the happy living, or tombstones for the lamented dead. There was also an immense circular iron polishing table, rapidly revolving to the plane of the horizon. Half a dozen hearthstones, just from the saw mill, held to the severe attrition of this table, quickly assume a beautiful glass-like polish. The whole process is very ingenious, and the Messrs. Altvater & Co. having purchased the patent will profit largely by the economy of labor, and share this advantage with their customers by reducing the price. See advertisement.

Central Skating Park.

The Stockholders of the Central Skating Park, held a meeting on Monday night at the store of Mr. C. C. Baer, on Wood street, and the following additional directors were elected to serve until September, 1868: John W. Pittock, James K. Dain, T. A. Spence, Jesse H. Lippincott. The officers of the Company now stand as follows: President, Joseph M. Knap; Vice President, W. C. Moreland; General Superintendant, D. P. Corwin; Secretary and Treasurer, T. A. Spence. Directors—Joseph M. Knap, W. C. Moreland, D. P. Corwin, Thos. A. Spence, A. D. Reno, John K. Shinn, B. C. Goodwill, J. Harvey McCausland, James K. Dain, John W. Pittock, John T. Shane, Jesse H. Lippincott and John Burgess.

The Park is now being put in thorough repair, and arrangements are being made for a large business during the coming season. No expense will be spared to make the Central Park everything that can be desired as a place of winter resort. Those having it in charge have benefitted by experience, so that our citizens may be assured of even better entertainment at the Park this winter than last. Arrangements have been made already for various novelties to be provided at the Central during the winter.

Another Hog Affair.

Yesterday morning, a man named Moses Bennett, no relative to the illustrious Moses of the "city of magnificent distances"—appeared before Alderman Strain, and made oath, charging Mrs. Geyer with cruelty to animals. The prosecutor alleges that some days since the defendant wantonly caused the death of a hog, valued at twenty dollars, belonging to him. He states that she first "hissed" a savage dog on the unoffending porker, and after it had been lacerated by the canine, she pounded it with huge stones until death ensued. The loss of the hog and the inhuman manner in which it was put to death, induced Moses to institute the suit as above stated. It does not appear from the information that the porker had given any offense to the defendant, nor is it intimated in any manner why the deed was done. If there is no additional light is thrown on the case, it is clearly evident that Mrs. Guyer, has been extremely cruel to the unfortunate member of the porcine family, and through her reprehensible conduct, he of the pork species came to his death untimely.

Charged with Horse Stealing.

Richard Thompson came to the office of Justice Lipp, yesterday, and preferred a charge of horse stealing against Adam Mowbray. The parties reside in Baldwin township, on farms adjacent to each other, and on Monday afternoon Thompson alleges the accused, while the former was in the city, entered his premises and took from there a bay horse valued at one hundred and twenty dollars, which he gave to a man named Carter, who took the animal to Little Washington and has not since returned. Mowbray states that he procured a loan of the horse from the prosecutor's son, and gave it with young Thompson's permission to Carter to ride to Hickory, where he intended to purchase some stock. The defendant, who has a high reputation for probity and veracity, gave bail for a hearing to-morrow.

Accident.

Yesterday, at about noon, a man named Frank Parkinson, an employee at McIntosh, Hemphill & Co's machine shop, on Pike street, met with a severe and disabling accident. He was working about a casting, which was being raised, when by some means it fell, completely severing his large toe. The injured man was removed to his boarding house, corner of Walnut and Pike streets, where his injuries were promptly attended to. The remainder of his foot was badly crushed, but it is thought that amputation will not be required.

Painful Result of Fun.—Yesterday morning a boy named Whipple, living at the Point, received a severe injury on his head as the result of some fun he was having. He, with some companions, were leaping over a post, when he was thrown to the ground, his head coming in contact with a large stone. The little fellow was severely, although not dangerously injury. It would be a great consolation to distressed ma'mas, and now and then a consolation to their distressed children, if boys could be induced to adopt some amusement that was not perilous to life and limb.

Mammoth.—We received yesterday from Mr. Mark Robb, of North Fayette township, two of the largest apples that ever greeted our vision during our lengthy term in the editorial chair. One was a "Sweet Basom," of a bright yellow color, and with a rich delicious flavor, weighing one pound one ounce and seven-eighths, and measuring fourteen inches and one-eighth in circumference. The other weighed one ounce less than its companion, and measured thirteen inches and one half in circumference. Who can beat that?

Arabian Nights' Entertainment.—If any of our readers have not yet seen this wonderful exhibition, we would advise them to lose no time, but go immediately. Our word for it you will never regret it. For splendor and beauty nothing to compare with these tableaux has ever been witnessed in this city. What every child has read and dreamed about, and grown persons eagerly perused, and now, for the first time, presented in a series of tableaux on a scale of magnificence and golden splendor, dazzling to behold.

Repairing.—The rubbish resulting from the recent heavy fire at Rhinehart's tobacco warehouse, on Wood street, has all been removed preparatory to the thorough rebuilding of the damaged edifice. The work of repair will go forward rapidly, and undoubtedly the firm will soon have their operations in full blast again at their old stand. We admire their energy and tender them our best wishes.

Raft Wrecks.—The high water occasioned some damage on Monday night. One large raft of lumber, descending the Allegheny river, struck one of the piers of the railroad bridge, and was broken to pieces. Another raft struck the first pier from the Allegheny side of the Suspension bridge, and was considerably damaged.

Fenian Meeting.—The Fenians of this city announce in our advertising columns that a meeting will be held at their hall, on the corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets, on Friday evening. The object is to thoroughly reorganize the Circle, and it is to be hoped that there will be a full attendance.

Discharged.—Patrick McCormack instituted proceedings against Allison Hardtmeyer before Alderman Taylor yesterday, for the larceny of a pick-axe and two shovels valued at $5. The accused was arrested, but was released after a hearing, the evidence being insufficient to sustain the charge.

Cutting Affray.

At about two o'clock on Monday morning two men named James Porter and James McKenna met in the beer saloon on the corner of Penn and Canal streets, opposite Wray's Phoenix Dining Saloon. An old grudge existed between the two men, and they soon fell into hard words, which resulted in a mutual challenge to fight. Pending the preparations for battle, McKenna stepped outside and brought back a brick. Porter objected to this, as giving his antagonist an undue advantage. McKenna replied that he had as much right to fight with a brick as Porter had to fight with a knife. The latter declared that he had no knife, whereupon McKenna threw away his brick and struck Porter with his fist. The latter immediately drew a large knife and inflicted a severe and dangerous cut in McKenna's groin. The latter is lying now in a precarious condition. He refuses to make any information, and his assailant is accordingly still at large. The wounded man says, with a somewhat sinister significance: "Wait till I get well and I'll fix him myself!"

Collision in the Tunnel.

At about seven o'clock on Monday evening, engines No. 4 and No. 16, attached respectively to a passenger and a freight train on the Panhandle Railroad, came in collision in the Try street Tunnel on that road. Fortunately no serious injuries were sustained by any persons on either of the trains, and the locomotive and cars escaped without serious damage. Mr. P. J. Perkins, conductor of the passenger train had his right arm somewhat severely bruised, but no bones were broken. Mr. Perkins was removed to the Union Depot, and Dr. Donnelly was summoned, who attended to the injuries of the wounded man. Others of the employess and some of the passengers were bruised more or less, but none seriously.

Worthy of Encouragement.

There is published in Philadelphia, Pa., by Rev. E. Weaver, a newspaper, owned and edited by colored men, and called the Christian Recorder. Rev. James Lynch, the editor is at present canvassing this city for subscribers. This paper contains the most reliable information in regard to the colored people, as it circulates most widely among them throughout the country, and is a most respectable exhibit of their intellectual progress. Mr. Lynch prosecutes this canvas in order to secure means to establish the paper on a firmer basis that will insure its permanancy, and add to its usefulness in the field in which it is destined to wield an important influence.

Coroner's Inquest.

Several days ago the body of a man was found in the Monongahela river, near Elizabeth, and Coroner Clawson was notified to hold an inquest. The Coroner deputized Justice Graham, of Elizabeth, to investigate the matter. It appears that the name of the deceased was John Evans. He was about sixty-two years of age, and resided in Elizabeth. He had been drinking very freely on the 22d inst., and while crossing the river in a skiff, with a companion named Rogers, he fell overboard and was drowned before he could be rescued. The deceased was a Welchman, and had been in this country but three years. He had no relatives here. A verdict of accidental death was rendered.

Remarkable Recovery.—Our readers will remember that some four weeks ago a Mrs. Kelly, of East Liberty, was removed to the Mercy Hospital, having sustained fearful injuries from the explosion of a kerosene lamp. Her head, breast, back and limbs were terribly burned, and it seemed that she could not possibly recover. Strange to state, however, she has survived her injuries, and is now rapidly recovering. Such a recovery, being as it is, almost a miracle, speaks volumes for the efficiency of the medical treatment at the Hospital, and for the tender and unremitting care of the sisters in charge.

Committed.—Justice Berry, of McKeesport, yesterday committed to jail for his appearance at court, a man named Thos. Laughlin, of that borough, on a charge of committing an assault with intent to outrage Mrs. Sarah Rapp. The information was made against Laughlin by John Rapp, husband of the woman, and he was arrested as above stated. A hearing was had in the case, and the defendant was held in fifteen hundred dollars bail for his appearance at court to answer the charge. Failing to secure the required amount, he was brought to this city as aforesaid, and lodged in the Stone house.

Captured.—Several weeks ago some horse thieves stole a pair of horses belonging to Mr. David Kerr, of Oil Creek township, taking them from the pasture at night, and at the same time stole saddles and bridles for them from a neighbor's barn. Mr. James Purtell, of Titusville, has been searching for the property for some time, and last Thursday Mr. Kerr received a dispatch from Mr. P. to the effect that he had recovered the horses and captured the thives at St. Mary's, Elk county.

Being Finished.—The tower which holds the great alarm bell is rapidly approaching completion. It has been thoroughly painted from bottom to top, the stairs to the machine room are being put up and the machine room itself has been neatly enclosed. The bell is in position and the machinery which is to operate it is being adjusted, and will probably be in operation during the next week, at which time the whole system of telegraph is expected to be in efficient working order.

A Deserter in Jail.—John W. Dickson, a soldier of the United States army, has been lodged in the Allegheny county jail by Lieut. Wm. C. Green, of the 1st U. S. infantry, there to remain until taken out by the committing officer. It seems that Dickson is a new recruit, and had been sent to the recruiting rendezvous at Newport Barracks, Ky. He deserted from that post some time since and made his way to this city, where he was arrested and lodged in jail as stated.

Harrisburg Incomes.—The income list of the city of Harrisburg, for the year ending June 30th, 1866, is just published. Hon. Simon Cameron returns his income at $28,741; J. D. Cameron, $1,315; Hon. J. C. Kunkel, $9,180; James McCormick, Sr., $50,400; J. W. Weir, $18,019; David Fleming, ex-Speaker of the Senate, $12,013; Charles L. Baily, $18,480; Dr. Geo. Bailey, $16,591; Wm. Colder, $12,534; Valentine Hummel, $11,215.

Destroyed an Awning.—A man named Fred Miller was before Alderman Humbert, yesterday, to answer a charge of malicious mischief preferred against him by Joseph Kaufman, the proprietor of a vegetable stand in the market square. The deponent alleges that Miller maliciously destroyed an awning, which the former had erected over his stand. In default of bail Miller was sent to jail for trial.

Another Harness Thief in Grief.—Justice Varner, of Baldwin township, committed to jail, on Monday, one Matthias Adams, of that township, to await his trial at Court on a charge of stealing harness. The accused yesterday succeeded in obtaining bail in the sum of eight hundred dollars, and was accordingly released from imprisonment. He will await his trial outside.

False Pretence.—John Wertz appeared before Alderman Strain yesterday and preferred a charge of false pretence against Oscar Stinger. The offence consisted in the latter procuring from the former the sum of five dollars by false and fraudulent representation. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Fined.—William Campbell, the individual who recently testified before Alderman Morrow that he was an adept in the hog business, was fined by that magistrate, yesterday, for keeping and maintaining a nuisance, in the shape of a pig sty on his premises on Locust street, in the Eighth ward.

Charged with Keeping a Bawdy House.—Jacob Royal made information before Alderman Lynch, yesterday, against Eliza Brown, a resident of Union alley, in the Sixth ward, for keeping and maintaing a bawdy house. The accused being ill she was not arrested.

Paid the Penalty.—Wm. Moran, convicted during the recent term of court, of illegal liquor selling, and lodged in jail in default of the necessary funds, was yesterday released on the payment of the prescribed fine and costs.

To "M. F."—We have received from "M. F." a beautiful and touching poetical contribution, which, owing to the great press of other matter, we are compelled to refuse publication.

Gave Bail.—Peter Dean, of the Third ward, was before Alderman Humbert, yesterday charged with having procured money from a grocer in the Diamond Square by false representations. He gave bail for a hearing to-day.

A Heavy County Town.—The people of Emporium, Cameron county, are exulting over the fact that, at the last election, they polled 108 votes, while Smithport, the county seat, polled only 57.

In Town.—Colonel James Ross Snowden, of Philadelphia, arrived in this city en route for Franklin, Pa., he will leave this afternoon.

Need More Houses.—There is a great scarcity of dwellings in Columbia and Lancaster counties.

TROUBLES WITH THE INDIANS.

Without accepting the recondite ethnologic theory which classifies the savage tribes of abrogines found on this continent as belonging to a Pre-adamite genus, that by a stupendous forgetfulness of Nature have past their foreordained limit, it is not difficult to arrive at the conclusion that they constitute a worthless population, beneficently destined to swift coming extinction. Observation and experience of their character and conduct long ago disenchanted us of the illusions thrown over them by such writers as Cooper, Catlin and Everett; and leed us to believe that the sooner they vanish, without inhumanity or crime on the part of the white race, the better it will be for the world.

Not that the worthlessness and depravity of the Indians are not matched by like qualities in certain classes among the whites. The Indian is not only evil, but is the occasion for the manifestation of much evil among whites, which is foreign to his nature, and which he would spurn with a grim, storical indignation.

The whole history of the annuities granted by our government to the Indian tribes illustrates this. Was there ever a contractor or agent for annuities that did not manage rapidly to acquire a fortune? It would go far towards disproving the doctrine of Total Depravity if one could be prodpced. Not only are the Indians constantly swindled, and so excited to acts of retaliation and revenge. Numberless trains, freighted with annuities, have been conveniently captured by white men, disguised as Indians, the plunder appropriated and marketed with impunity. If the supplies belonged to the government, of course, it was the loser; if to a contractor, who, by collusion, aided in robbing himself, indemnity was wrung out of the Treasury, under the plea that the government was bound to keep communications open and safe. It has even happened that members of both Houses of Congress have been enriched by partnerships in these transactions.

This description of Indian depredations are always followed by an appeal for a military force to be sent to the scene of action. It is curious to note how small forces are derided as insufficient. Armies larger than that with which SCOTT conquered Mexico are clamored for. Does any innocent soul marvel why? Simply because large armies afford handsomer pickings than small ones. Those who furnish transportation, forage and provisions calculate on a fat harvest from the marching of ten or twenty thousand troops on such expeditions. Hence the manufacture of Indian wars has become a regular trade, and yields a larger margin of profits than most others.

In 1860 the Southern conspirators went into this business for the double purpose of plundering the treasury and scattering the army, both of which they did most effectually. From Texas and New Mexico swarming reports came up to Washington, and thence spread all over the country, of Indian depredations and atrocities. The men in power at Washington understood the trick, because they had instigated it. The Indians were really the last people in those regions against whom the government had need to send military powers; but they were sent, and fully accomplished the end intended.

Now, there are reports of hostilities on the part of Indians in the west and northwest; some forces have been sent thither, and more are to follow. Perhaps rum furnished by white men, and swindling practiced by them, have influenced parties of Indians into doing horrible acts. But some white men out there are worse than Indians. Plundering Indians does not suffice them. They want an army out there, so that by means of it they may reach their long fingers away to Washington, and into the strong boxes of the Treasury. They are in a fair way to be gratified.

It may well be doubted whether, if the Indians should be absolutely exterminated this year, the government and people of this country would be allowed to find out the fact for a century. They are too profitable to be dispensed with, and if the last should expire, lay-figures of them would still be used by cormorants and speculators in order to produce the impression that tens of thousands were roaming the plains or held the fastnesses of the mountains, eager to scalp whites, men and women.

LECTURES AND LECTURERS.

Some years ago the writer hereof participated for several successive seasons in the management of Courses of Popular Lectures. The Committee with which he was associated were thoroughly anxious to please all classes of people, so as to secure the largest possible number of patrons, the object being to endow a Public Library. Animated by this desire to please the Committee secured the services of Lecturers of different religious and political faiths, the distribution being as nearly equal as practicable between Conservatives and Radicals, the most eminent of each sort being secured. Now mark the result! The Radical Lecturers regularly filled the hall to overflowing with auditors, while the Conservative Lecturers invariably left a freezing array of empty seats. The Conservatives in the community would not pay to hear their most conspicuous champions. It took all the money made for the Association by the Radical Lecturers to cover the deficit entailed by the Conservative ones. In particular, we remember that one week the chief iconoclast of New England Radicalism, since deceased, spake to a vast concourse, drawn from all classes of society. The week following one of the most eminent Conservatives of the city of New York, distinguished for the breadth and accuracy of his culture, was the speaker. Though the weather was favorable, there were not to exceed twenty-five persons in the hall, and they were mostly Radicals.

Three years ago we were spending some days with relatives in a city of Central New York. A nephew, intensely copperhead, was a member of the Lecture Committee of a Library Association. A Brooklyn Radical, of high repute, was to Lecture, and our nephew invited us to accompany him to the hall, which we did. After seating us comfortably he bade us good evening, and went away. Upon returning to the residence, we questioned the young man as to the motives for his conduct, when he frankly declared he would not hear such men speak. "Why, then, do you invite them?" we inquired. "Because I want money for the Library" he replied. "Why not invite equally eminent Conservatives?" I rejoined. "There is no money in them," was his business-like response.

Now, we venture to say that throughout the entire North, from Maine to Oregon, this is the general rule. Conservative gentlemen of learning may be superlatively proper, but the masses of men and women who attend Public Lectures do not care to hear them. A Lecture Course, supplied by Radicals is sure to pay; and the more strongly pronounced the Radicalism the better; while a corresponding Course, supplied by Conservatives, is a dead failure, involving certain loss. And this is natural. The leaders of thought and action inspire enthusiasm and excite curiosity, which the staid upholders of moderate and established opinions command only respect, and often hardly that.

PETROLEUM, OR "SENECA OIL," FORTY YEARS AGO.

The following communication, published in the Pittsburgh Gazette in the latter part of 1827, is curious, as marking the advance we have made since that dark age, when there were no lamps in our streets, and only a little crude oil was oozing through the rocks, and equally crude ideas taking form in the brains of our leading men.

It was an odd suggestion to propose to light a city with gas made from petroleum at a time when the supply was so extremely limited; and it is a striking evidence that no mind, however ingenious, can anticipate the results of science and art, that at this day, when "the rocks are pouring out rivers of oil," gas is still manufactured in this and other cities, from bituminous coal, the use of which the writer does not seem to regard with favor:

Observations on the use of Seneca Oil, and particularly on its employment for the purpose of producing illuminating gas, in the city of Pittsburgh.

* * * "I SEE that the corporation has, at last, determined to light the city: it is a very sensible determination, for indeed few places needed it more. I fear that lighting with gas will be found troublesome and expensive, in spite of the vast supply and cheapness of the coal. But I will tell you what is the cheapest, best, and most economical light you can use: it is what is called, in the west, Seneca oil; which is Petroleum, with some peculiar characteristics which distinguish it from that which is found in various other parts of the world, in the Cornish and Devonshire mines, in England, for example.

"It would be superfluous in me to describe this oil to you; to tell you how it is found throughout all the coal formation west of the mountains, in springs; in the rivulets which flow out of coal mines; in certain clays or earths, from which it is separated, as it was formerly, to considerable amount, on Oil Creek, by manipulating it in water; and also floating on all, or nearly all, the salt wells. This substance, were there a ready market for it, might be supplied at your very doors, to an almost unlimited extent. At present it is almost valueless, being used only as an ingredient in what is called "British Oil," and as a horse medicine, (in which, by the bye, it is very useful.) The price of it is very low, because a few barrels glut the demand of the apothecaries; but if the city would take a large quantity, or if it were brought into general use otherwise, I believe it could be supplied at 25 cents per gallon. This may be said to be a very indifferent price for the article, unless it existed in great quantities in particular places—that it would not be worth the trouble of collecting; and of course being neglected, the price would rise for want of a supply, and then such quantities would be brought forward as to injure the dealers, a thing always to be deprecated in a well regulated country. Few things, however, offer so direct a proof of the doctrine, in political economy, that value is the effect of labor—a doctrine which I do not confess to be true in every instance, nevertheless. The substance in question is diffused throughout the country, and this will make it abundant in the market; but wherever it is found, it rises and accumulates slowly, and what is accumulated can be collected in a few minutes, with scarcely any labor, except where it is procured from the peculiar clay banks in which it is found. The salt wells may be cleared of what floats, by letting a blanket down every quarter of an hour, and this will also apply to the springs where it is discovered. It is like honey and bees-wax, of which few families have large quantities, but so many persons produce them that there is always a good and cheap supply in the market. Such articles, when extensively used in a city, and obtained from the surrounding country, beget an intercourse which is mutually beneficial. It is manifestly desirable for a city to waken to its interest by encouraging such a new object of trade, which, whilst it increases the circulation of money, will enable the country people to purchase more largely from the stores in town. In a word, it is the true policy of a city to enrich the surrounding country; and that city flourishes most, whose vicinage is the most prosperous.

"I need not argue further, to show the advantage of using Seneca Oil to light Pittsburgh, if it is applicable to the purpose. The proof of its applicability is only to be procured in the old and sure way—TRY IT. Let any one who doubts that it is a perfectly good oil for lamps, send to the apothecary's for a half a pint, and burn it one night, in a lamp of any kind, precisely as fish or spermaceti oils are burned, observing only that to avoid smoke, it is necessary the length of the wick should be deminished. I have tried it, and found it succeed perfectly; but I have not tried it, clarified; and there is no reason why it should not be clarified as well as any other oil, (and then it will burn as free from smoke,) by filtering or precipitating the gross particles contained in what is now brought to market. I am not chemist enough to give a disquisition on its component parts, but combustion shows that it contains more inflammable matter than animal oils.*

"Fish oil, to a considerable amount, is now taken over the mountains, for which you have to pay money, or money's worth; but if this oil gets into general use, I should not be surprised, if in a few years, it becomes an object of very large transportation to the east; thus affording a new article, to bring money to you. I proposed last winter, to one of the directors of the light-houses, to try this oil for those establishments; but, as yet, there is not a sufficient quanity on the sea-board, to authorize a large experiment of the sort. I believe it applicable to most of the arts in which oil is used, and have now employed a capable person to begin some experiments on it. Some of these applications are of my own invention, and if they answer my expectations, I think I shall patent them, which will be a slight recompense for introducing a new means of wealth to an extensive region. If no other good is produced by this communication, I hope it will have the effect of attracting attention, and causing experiments on a substance so abundant, which now runs to utter waste.

"Let me add another idea, which I am conscious, will at first view be thought very visionary; but I say, only try it; the experiment will cost nothing. Many of the salt wells are filled, from the surface of the water to the mouth of the well, with inflammable gas: let a tight barrel with the head out, be let down, perpendicularly, into such a well, and after having remained some minutes, as the gas is heavier than the atmosphere, it will displace the latter, and fill the barrel; then let a wet blanket down, to cover the head of the barrel, and after it is drawn up, uncover a small space and tilt the barrel; then let a lighted candle, at the end of a long pole, be placed at the aperture; if the barrel be full of gas it will take fire, and probably explode. If this experiment succeed, the induction is clear. Barrels of gas, for the use of the city, if you choose to light with gas, will become as constant an article of commerce from the salt works as salt is now. These barrels may be emptied into a grand air-tight receptacle, easily contrived, and thence distributed exactly as gas made from coal. Here, then, is another source of income to the country. Indeed, Providence has been so bountiful to the whole west, that wealth seems to court you on every hand. Should the experiment of filling barrels with gas at the salt works, not answer, it will be very desirable that the city should cause an essay to be made on the production of gas from the Seneca Oil, which abounds with the materials for its production. It is well known that the use of animal oil to produce gas, has been extensive in England, after its superiority over gas from coal had been tested; but the high price of those oils there will probably prevent the general adoption of them for this purpose. Some writers, however, contend that they will produce gas at a cheaper rate than coal, in spite of the cost of them. If Seneca oil will supply more gas than animal oils, which I do not doubt; and if it can be procured at 25 cents per gallon, a fair trial of it in this way, would, assuredly, be demanded by common prudence.

"It seems to me, that indispensable as lighting the city is to the comfort and safety of the inhabitants, the corporation ought to deliberate maturely on the plan it will adopt, because any future alteration will be expensive, and because the lighting of a town is among the heaviest of its charges.

"You will excuse my troubling you so much at length, as it is only a fresh proof of the interest I constantly feel in every thing which concerns a city and a country where I have been kindly treated, and of my desire to repay that kindness with my feeble exertions. Were I to do them tenfold the good I ever expect will be in my power, I should still think myself in arrear." * * *

MUCIUS SCÆVOLA.

Remarks by the Editor.—We have inserted the foregoing observations, because we apprehend that a portion of the information which they contain will be new to most of our readers, as it was to us; we refer particularly to the large quantity of Petroleum which can be obtained in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. That this material will afford an illuminating gas, by destructive distillation, is undoubtedly true; but we apprehend that it will not be superior to that obtained from the bituminous coal in its vicinity, and are convinced that it would be inferior to the gas from oil. In a manufacturing town, like Pittsburgh the coke from a coal gas establishment, will be a very valuable article, and will, of course, greatly diminish the expense of carrying on the works. In Baltimore, where the gas is made from coal, the gas company have been unable to sell their coke, excepting on very disadvantageous terms; and we have but little doubt, that were it in their power to change the system, without serious loss, they would there adopt the use of oil, which possesses several advantages over coal; among these, the trifling residuum left from the distillation; the diminution in the size of the retorts, gasometers, and pipes, which, from the great illuminating power of oil gas, may be of less than one-half the dimensions of those required when coal is employed; the avoiding the necessity of using lime to purify the gas, a process both troublesome and expensive; the comparative freedom of oil gas, from that offensive smell which predominates in coal gas, from the presence of sulphuretted hydrogen, which is but partially separated, by the purifying process, in the way it is actually conducted.

Those persons who have visited London, or Baltimore, and who have had an opportunity of comparing the odor emitted by the coal gas in those places, with that from the oil gas in New York, must be sensible of the very great difference between the two. At coal gas works, they tell you that this is accidental, but this information affords little consolation, as it is the accident of every day. We perceive that we are unwittingly traveling from Pittsburgh, to which we at first intended to have confined our remarks, leaving their application to other cities, to the understanding of the reader; we have taken a glance at London, Baltimore, and New York; and although we have not mentioned, we have thought of Philadelphia, and whilst we hope to see the brilliant gas light, illuminating our streets and stores, we also hope that they will never be polluted by the nuisance of coal gas. In Pittsburgh, where bituminous coal is generally used as fuel, the force of this objection is greatly diminished, and its cheapness will probably insure it a preference to all other substances. The high price of oil, in England, has not even there prevented the extensive use of it in gas works, and on our sea-board, it can be afforded at a less price than that assigned to Seneca oil by the writer of the observations. It has been purchased in New York by the gas company, at less than 25 cents per gallon, and, it is said, can generally be so purchased in the large way.

The suggestions made respecting the obtaining of a combustible gas from the salt wells, which are generally filled with it, are, we believe, founded in an imperfect knowledge of the chemical constitution of the gases so produced; but as this is a subject with which the writer does not pretend to be intimate, the suggestion was perfectly natural; this gas affords an extremely feeble flame, and were it possible to transport it to the city, without incurring an expense manyfold greater than that of generating gas from coal, or from oil, it would scarcely make darkness visible. All the species of carburetted hydrogen, are lighter than atmospheric air, and if that contained in the wells is heavier, this must arise from its being contaminated with carbonic acid, (fixed air) which would still decrease its illuminating power.

IMMEDIATE RELIEF.—A CURE AT LAST.—METCALFE'S GREAT RHEUMATIC REMEDY, for Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, Nervous Headaches, and Pains in the Head and Face. This preparation is entirely new, having been in use only a few months; yet, in no single instance has it been known to fail. The first dose (forty drops) invariably relieves the pain, and, thrice repeated, often effects a cure. It not only relieves the most excruciating agony; but, when the patient has been confined to bed for months, a few doses will frequently carry off the attack in two or three days; and in many cases of extreme torture, relief has been obtained in a few hours. In all other cases it will [illegible] in a short space of time. The great charm of METCALFE'S RHEUMATIC REMEDY is the small quantity necessary to cure the most violent attacks of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Gout, Nervous Headaches, and all similar complaints. In this respect it is very different to the other numerous remedies which are constantly being brought before the public; the great benefit of which lies in the poor sufferer's swallowing three or four quarts of some nauseous liquid, before the slightest relief is promised. Remember that a few drops of this wonderful medicine acts like magic, and instantly alleviates the most unbearable pain.

Tell your afflicted friends to try it and be convinced. Price one dollar per bottle.

THE GRAND SECRET.—The grand secret in medication is to help nature. SUSTAIN and REGULATE—these are the Alpha and Omega of the only theory of cure that has common sense for its basis. If the nervous system is shattered the muscles weak, and the mind, like the body, in a state of partial collapse—what is best to do? Reason teaches as the answer:

BUILD UP YOUR MAN.

Brace him up as you would brace a tottering edifice. The pabulum he needs is a Tonic Alterative. Bring him up out of the depths of Debility and Despondency

WITH HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

They cannot injure. A child may take them in doses suited to its years, without the possibility of harm. The enfeebled vital powers are sure to respond energetically to their action as the wilted grass is to erect its blades under the vivifying and refreshing rain. In all cases of debility the Bitters are absolutely required. There is no substitute or succedaneum that will fill their place. Resort to this most wonderful of modern Tonics

AND ALL WILL BE WELL.

Bear in mind that in Dyspepsia, Intermittent Fevers, Bilious Disorders, and Affections of the Nerves, no other medicine will produce one tithe of the good effect that invariably follows the use of this excellent Invigorator and Corrective. Sold everywhere.—N. Y. Tribune, Oct. 27, 1866.

PURE CALIFORNIA WINES.
GURNER & CO.,
No. 80 Cedar St., New York,

Offer for sale these valuable Wines, which are gaining public favor with astonishing rapidity, and whose unequalled and unrivalled popularity is not without [illegible] tested the [illegible] in preference over all others. As a [illegible] of these Wines we [illegible] and the numerous certificates they have voluntarily been tendered from the most eminent physicians, as well as gentlemen in every position in life, all cases of which are recommended. The following brands are now offered by us. The following comprises all the varieties now grown in the State suitable for sale:

WHITE, HOCK WINE.—Of a light straw color, very delicate and fine flavored.

CLARET.—A superior wine for table use.

ANGELICA.—A rich and naturally sweet wine, much admired by ladies, and valuable in the sick chamber, as it is pure, and is well adapted for Communion purposes.

MUSCATEL.—A light colored, highly aromatic wine. Very similar to the celebrated Tokay.

PORT.—Deep red color, fine flavor, and in many respects similar to the old wines of Lisbon.

GRAPE BRANDY.—The pure distillation of our wines.

WINE BITTERS.—A very agreeable tonic and a sure remedy for the diarrhoea.

This remarkable and agreeable combination of a useful and an agreeable beverage that has never been offered to the public. Millions of bottles were sold throughout the North during the last four years, and where it has been introduced, the family circle, in addition to the invalid table, the family circle, and the bachelor's sideboard.

Ladies who have lost strength and appetite, and suffer from nausea, vomiting and vertigo; gentlemen who "don't feel very well" just before breakfast or dinner, whose stomachs are out of order and whose systems are generally deranged; mothers weaning children and suffering from loss of appetite; children of sickly nature and your dyspeptic constitutions; travelers to whom changes of water and diet, and those who live in malarious districts will find in these Bitters one of the most valuable invigorators that can be taken.

It was used very extensively in 1861, with such general satisfaction that it would be a waste of time now to deem it necessary to publish any of the many certificates that we have received, testifying in the very strongest terms, in its favor. Allow ourselves to guarantee that these Wines are STRICTLY PURE AND UNADULTERATED.

It has been given to little children suffering from weakness and weak lungs with most happy effect. One little girl in particular, with pains in her head, loss of appetite and daily wasting consumption, on whom all medical skill had been exhausted, has been entirely restored. She commenced by taking but a teaspoonful a day. Her appetite and strength rapidly increased and she is now well.

(ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS ON FIRST PAGE.)

Holloween—The Night and its Observance.

Next to Christmas and New Years nights, perhaps no night in all the year is so merry and wild a night as that of the 31st of October, All Hollow's Eve, or Holloween, as it is called by all its observers. This is the night of all others in the year, when gay and fantastic, but oftentimes badly frightened superstitution runs riot, absolutely without stint among the young people of both sexes, and some of the observances which mark the occasion are so whimsical and absurd that one is at a loss to imagine how any one not afflicted with a mild insanity could ever have invented them.

It is evident that the observance of this night is of pagan origin, as there is nothing in church beliefs to warrant any such goings on as obtain in its commemoration. The leading idea of the time seems to be that is is the night, of all others, for supernatural manifestations and influences. It is the night set apart for the walking abroad of spirits, both of this and the invisible worlds, for be it known, the ghosts and goblins from beyond the grave are not the only ones that walk on that night, but when the devoted observer of the mystic rites is sufficiently under the influences that he has conjured, he becomes insensible—temporarily dead—and his own spirit, leaving his body, goes forth on an exploring expedition of its own, returning with stores of uncanny knowledge.

Throughout the countries of Europe there is a singular uniformity in the customs marking the observance of Halloween. Principle among these customs are those in which nuts and apples are employed. Indeed, so prominent are nuts as a feature of the occasion, that the night is in some localities called Nutcrack Night. Burns, in his poem on Halloween, thus celebrates this feature of the ceremonies:

> The auld guidwife's well-hoordit nits
> Are round and round divided,
> And mony lads and lasses' fates
> Are there that night decided.
> Some kindle couthie, side by side,
> And burn thegither trimly;
> Some start away wi' saucy pride
> And jump out owre the chimly
> Fu' high that night.
> Jean slips in twa wi' tentie e'e
> Wha 'twas she wadna tell,
> But this is Jock an' this is me
> She says in to hersel'
> He bleezed owre her and she owre him
> As they wad never mair part,
> Till fuff! he started up the lum
> And Jean had e'en a sair heart
> To see't that night.

Brand in his Popular Antiquities says: "It is a custom in Ireland when the young women would know if their lovers are faithful, to put three nuts upon the bars of the grate, naming the nuts after their lovers. If a nut cracks or jumps the lover will prove unfaithful; if it begins to blaze or burn, he has regard for the person making the trial. If the nuts named after the girl and her lover burn together, they will be married.

There is an old custom which still prevails in some localities in the celebration of this merry night, in which an apple is the "medium of manifestations." A stick is hung up horizontally by a string from the ceiling, and a candle placed on one end and an apple on the other. The stick is rapidly twirled about, and as it revolves, the merry ones of the party jump up one after the other in wild attempts to snatch the apple off the stick with their teeth, no use of hands being permitted. It falls out, however, that the faces more frequently come in contact with the candle than the apple, and much scorching of hair and eyebrows and much smearing with tallow and lampblack are the result, to the great merriment of the spectators. This queer observance seems to have been invented by some person with an inventive brain for grotesque fun, but with not the slightest tinge of the superstition that has given so much significance to most of the observances which mark the night.

The same is true of that other custom concerning apples, which prevails among the juveniles of some regions. A tub is filled with water, and a number of apples put afloat in it. The youngsters then, one after another, dash their heads into the water in the desperate endeavor to catch the tantalizing fruit in their mouths. Of course unbounded fun, both to participants and spectators, results.

Among the customs still retained by the young people of Scotland is that of kail pulling. Two young people go out blindfolded, hand in hand, to the kail-garden, and each pulls the first stalk of kail or colewort that is met with. They take the prizes back with them to the fireside, and there inspect them. According as the stalks are big or little, crooked or straight, such shall be the future husband or wife of the holder of the stalk. The amount of earth clinging to the roots of kail indicates the amount of fortune to come with the bride or groom, and as the pith of the stalk is sweet or bitter, so shall the temper be of the coming man or woman.

Another device for settling matrimonial doubts is the "three dishes." Three basins are set side by side on the hearth. One is empty, one is full of clean water, and one is full of dirty water. The inquirer comes up blindfold and dips his finger at random into one or other of the dishes. If he dips into the clean water he will marry a maid; if into the dirty water, a widow; but if into the empty dish, he shall forever remain in single forlornness.

There are other customs that are anything but so light and merry as those we have described—customs so weird and fearful that their observance has been known to craze those who had the nerve to carry them out. One of these is a spell familiar to all, that of eating an apple before a looking glass, with the prospect of seeing reflected in the glass the shadowy face of the future husband or wife peering over the shoulder of the eater.

Another of these uncanny ceremonies is to wet a shirt sleeve and hang it before the fire to dry, the owner meanwhile lying in bed watching it. At midnight the apparition of the future husband or wife enters the room and turns the sleeve. Burns, in one of his songs, makes this mention of the custom:

> "The last Halloween I was waukin'
> My droukit sark-sleeve, as ye ken,
> His likeness cam' up the house staukin,
> And the very gray breeks o' Tam Glenn."

There are numerous other weird performances, all having the same object, viz: the conjuration of the spirit of the future wife or husband.

Among the superstitions most strongly believed in is the faith that a child born on Halloween is gifted with mysterious faculties, such as second sight and the ability to hold converse with disembodied spirits and supernatural beings.

The observances among us have their origin among those of the old world, and are by no means so generally practiced in this country as in England, Ireland and Scotland. For the most part, like most of the customs which have been transplanted from Europe to America, the cermonies of Halloween have become, among us only the shadow of their original substance. They lack the body of genuine belief that gives them a substantial existence among the old world peasantry. Here they are practiced because we have heard them described, and any make-believe superstition languishes.

Nevertheless, belief or no belief, so long as Halloween is made the occasion of social gatherings and merry makings, so long will it be a jolly time to be wished for and made the most of. So we wish all our readers to-night a bonny HALLOWEEN.

Supreme Court.

Yesterday morning the Supreme Court met at nine o'clock. Judge Strong was absent, but except him a full bench was present.

Burford vs. McGee; Armstrong county. Argument concluded by E. S. Golden, for plaintiff in error.

Eccles vs. Stewart, et. al.; Westmoreland county. Argued by Laird, for plaintiff in error, and by Foster, contra.

Rifener vs. Hilty; Westmoreland county. Argued by Laird, for plaintiff in error, and Foster, contra.

Allegheny Valley Railroad Co. vs. Templeton; Armstrong county. Argued by Golden, for plaintiff in error, and Foster, contra.

Adjourned until to-day.

A Domestic Spat.

Frederick Merton was before Alderman Lynch, yesterday, charged with beating and abusing his wife, Catherine Merton, in a shameful manner, and without just cause or provocation. Frederick attempted to defend himself by showing that Catherine had given him ample provocation by scolding him like a virago on the slightest pretext, but the magistrate had the good sense to know, as all rational men do, that the power of speech is woman's only weapon for offensive and defensive warfare, and he therefore held Frederick to bail in the sum of $300 as security for his appearance at a further hearing to be had in the case on Saturday. As both parties left the office considerably mollified, it is to be presumed that the affair will be amicably adjusted.

Spot Him.

The Bedford Inquirer says: Ah individua calling himself Samuel Saunders, has been travelling extensively in this county for the ostensible purpose of raising money to erect a State monument to the heroes who fell at Gettysburg. The scoundrel succeeded in getting a large sum of money out of our citizens. He was suspicioned very sharply of being a swindler in St. Clair township, and was arrested, but succeeded in making his escape from an upper story of the residence of Gideon D. Trout, Esq., on Tuesday night, the 16th inst., by fastening a blanket and letting himself down. He was dressed in a black cloth suit, is supposed to be about five feet eight inches in height, with heavy black moustache and whiskers. It is supposed that he had succeeded in collecting several thousand dollars.

The Wooster University.—The Ohio Synod of the Old School Presbyterian Church, which closed its session at Wooster last week, agreed to locate their proposed University at that place, provided the citizens of Wayne county will contribute one hundred thousand dollars to erect the buildings. The Republican says that all but fifteen thousand dollars of the amount has been subscribed, and the remainder has been pledged by the committee having charge of the subscription. The Building Committee of the University expect to organize in December, and take immediate measures for erecting the buildings.

District Court.—District Court met yesterday morning at the usual hour, and the case of Wm. Parkinson vs. Wm. H. Brown, reported on trial on Monday, was resumed. It occupied the attention of the Court during the entire day, and will probably not be finished before to-morrow, as the case for the defense had just opened at the time of adjournment last evening.

Common Pleas.—Court met at the usual hour yesterday morning, but there was nothing to do, and the Court adjourned until ten o'clock this morning, when License Court will sit. To-morrow morning it is probable that the Criminal Court argument list will be taken up.

Large Losses.—There have been two millions of dollars worth of property, in the oil region, destroyed by fire within a year.

Special Caution.—Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has become so popular that various parties have put out articles calling them Mrs. Winslow's. Please take notice that the Mrs. Winslow of the Soothing Syrup is not connected with any other article.

EARLY TELEGRAMS.

FENIAN EXCITEMENT.

Canadian Volunteers Demand the Death of the Raiders—Excitement in Cincinnati.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Herald's Toronto special says: General excitement exists among the military organizations, who are strictly opposed to reprieving the Fenian prisoners. The "Queen's Own" will circulate a petition denouncing those who show the white feather at the bidding of William H. Seward.

The Herald's Ottawa special says the threats of vengeance by the Fenians should Lynch be executed, is creating great excitement there. The volunteers at Ridgeway demand the death of the raiders while others oppose it, believing that war with the United States would follow the execution.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 30.—The Fenians of this city assembled in large numbers at their Armory last evening. Great excitement was manifested over the news from Toronto and Washington. Many of those who participated in the Buffalo expedition were present. Head Centre Fitzgerald mustered into service four full companies of men. Arrangements have been completed for uniforming and arming as many as may be mustered in.

General Sherman and the War Office—Departure of Minister Campbell—The Withdrawal of French Troops to Commence Next Month.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Herald's Washington special says: General Grant is anxious that General Sherman should assume the portfolio of Mr. Stanton, in order that he may have the hearty co-operation of the war office in the work of organizing the army. Gen. Sherman, it is reported, does not aspire to the position, and Gen. Grant hopes to have Gen. Steadman nominated for the position.

The Times' Washington special says: Colonel Campbell, United States Minister to Mexico, has left that city with credentials to the Juarez Government, and with full instructions conforming with the tripartite arrangement already announced between the United States, France and the Republic of Mexico. Napoleon is to commence the withdrawal of the French army from Mexico next month, and it is probable the whole army will be withdrawn by the first of January next. Of course Maximilian leaves also.

Our Government will extend to the Juarez Government a protectorate to be operative and ready in case of emergency. In order to accomplish this a military officer of high rank will go with Col. Campbell, and both General Sherman and General Hancock are spoken of in this connection. In consideration of these friendly offices, Mexican territory will be ceded to the United States which will give us the whole of Lower California, together with Sonora and Chihuahua.

Surrender of Indians—Body of Lieutenant Rhodes.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—A Herald's special dated Fort Garland, (Cal.,) October 11th, says: A band of Utah Indians have surrendered to General Carson.

The Santa Fe Mexican says: The body of Lieutenant Rhodes, who mysteriously disappeared several weeks since, has been found. It was found he had been shot.

Outrages by the Ute Indians.

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The Tribune's Leavenworth special says the Denver papers publish accounts of the most horrible atrocities perpetrated by the Ute Indians.

TO LADIES.—If you require a reliable remedy to restore you and remove irregularities or obstructions, WHY NOT USE THE BEST. Every lady knows the slightest irregularity of nature is likely to bring on Headache, Giddiness, Low Spirits, Fainting, Hysterics, &c.; then the bloom of health fades, the appetite fails, and other symptoms more distressing commence, as Weakness, Spinal Complaint, the Whites, Prolapsus, &c., &c. The experience of 30 years has proved they have no equal for removing obstructions and irregularities, no matter from what cause they arise. They are safe and sure in every case. FOR SALE—400 Acres of Coal Land, lying immediately upon the Ohio River, 20 miles below Gallipolis, and 185 miles above Cincinnati. On the above tract is a four foot vein of Coal, which, for general purposes, is not surpassed. It is entirely different from the Southern Ohio Coal; contains but little sulphur, forges and cokes well, and for making steam cannot be excelled. The location being about midway from Pomeroy and Hanging Rock, must make it valuable for coaling boats. There is a water front of ¾ of a mile, with a good landing at all stages of the river. An entrance has been run in the hill about 300 feet, track finished to river, together with the necessary fixtures for mining and delivering coal afloat. On said tract is first-class double Portable Circular Saw Mill together with a Portable Grist Mill, all in good running order, and plenty of the very best oak, ash and poplar timber. Would sell one-half interest if desired, to a party with experience and capital for working same.

FOR SALE—231 acres Coal, including 51 acres Surface, on the East side of the Ohio River, three miles above Wheeling, with right of way to river. The close proximity to a good market at Wheeling, together with the fact that the coal crops out high enough in the hill to be used profitably for rolling mill purposes, makes this a good investment.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

TUESDAY, October 30, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 146½; 1881's, 113⅝; 5-20's, old, 114¼; do new, 110¼; 10-40s, 99⅝; 7-30s, 1st series, 106⅝; second and third, 105⅝. Michigan Southern R. R., 92⅝; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 93⅝; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 109⅝; Erie R. R., 85¼; Union Telegraph Company, 53¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 110¼; Chicago & North Western, 57¼; do preferred, 80⅝.

—In consequence of the large number of thefts of bonds in various parts of the country, and of the ease with which stolen bonds are disposed of, there is an increasing disposition to convert coupon bonds into registered bonds. We learn from Washington that the conversion by the public is taking with a rapidity unknown before. In the law of June 30, 1864, this process of exchanging coupon bonds into registered bonds was first authorized; and, by the existing regulations of the Treasury, the conversion is made without any charge except that incident to transmission by express to Washington and back. It has been suggested that the conversion under this act should be authorized to be done in New York, instead of at Washington, where chiefly these bonds are bought and sold.

—No new National Banks were organized during last week. The circulation issued during the week amount to $459,385, making the total amount issued up to date being $294,826,689, for which the United States Treasurer holds securities for circulation to the amount of $336,833,550; for deposits in designated depositories of public moneys to the amount of $375,122,580.

—Interest on the 7-30 notes is credited from August 15, 1866, to date of conversion, at 7 3-10 per cent, and the interest on the 5-20 bonds is charged from July 1, 1866, to date of conversion at 6 per cent—difference in interest received in currency. All notes must be endorsed "Pay Secretary of the Treasury for redemption," and endorsed by the depositor. Notes made payable to order must have indorsement verified.

—The amount of gold in the Treasury has reached ninety-five millions. Twenty-four millions will be due to the public on the 1st of of November, for the 5-20 interest coupons then due.

Corn is firm but unchanged; sale of car prime Shelled at $1,05, and 100 bush prime Ohio Rye at $1,20.

FLOUR—Is very firm, and another advance has been established. We now quote in a regular way from store at $12½ to $12¾ for good to choice brands of Spring Wheat, and $13½ to $13¾ for Winter. Rye Flour is selling at $7,50 for new, and Buckwheat at $4½ to $5 per cwt.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and unchanged at 16½ to 17 for Shoulders; 18 for Ribbed Sides, and 22½ to 24½ for Plain and Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull and nominal at 17 to 17½—Mess Pork is held pretty firmly at $31 per bbl.

ASHES—Soda Ash is firm and a shade higher—6¼ for common, and 6⅝ for Refined Pearlash is selling at 11 to 15.

APPLES—In good supply, and while the market is a shade weaker, owing to adverse reports from the east, prices are not quotably lower, ranging from $2½ to $3 per bbl, as to quality.

CRANBERRIES—Steady with a continued fair demand but unchanged—$15 per bbl for common, and $20 for cultivated.

CHEESE—Is in good supply and a little dull but unchanged—17 for Western Reserve; 18 for Hamburg; and 20 to 22 for Goshen.

LIME—In good demand at $2.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, October 30, 1866.

CRUDE—There was again quite a spirited demand for Crude to-day, which was owing to the very low figures now prevailing, as well as to the fact that the impression prevails to some extent that the bottom has very nearly been touched. We now quote at 10½ to 11 cts, in bulk and barrels returned, and 15¼ to 16, bbls included. Sales of 800 bbls, to arrive, at 11½; 400 at 11¼; 3000 do at 11; 1000, on the spot, at 11; and 8,500, in lots, all bought by one firm, and all at 10¾. The oil business has now got to a point that is very satisfactory to refiners, but "death" to crude oil dealers, some of whom will lose as much as they have made during the past twelve months. To an outsider, the situation has become exceedingly interesting, and both buyers and sellers are now anxiously waiting to see which way the market will turn—whether there will be a reaction or a still further decline.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was very dull and weak to-day, and compared with yesterday, prices have again declined. We now quote at 29½@30, free on board cars here, and 35½ to 36, delivered in Philadelphia. Sale of 500 bbls for November and 500 for December, both at 36. The above are the lowest figures we have been called upon to report during the present season, but as yet, there is no disguising the fact that the tendency is still downward. Free oil is very dull and declining, in sympathy with bonded.

ARRIVALS—No arrivals since our last report, but within the next forty-eight hours the receipts will doubtless be large.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
TUESDAY, October 30, 1866.

CATTLE.

The receipts of Cattle were again large this week, reaching fully thirteen hundred head, and with wet and disagreeable weather, and an over supply, the market was regarded as the hardest one of the season. There was a very fair attendance of buyers and a very good demand, provided holders were willing to make material concessions. As will be seen by reference to the sales, inferior and common cattle sold down to 3@4 cts, which are the lowest figures touched for some time and the same grade of stock a few weeks since would have sold at 5 to 5½. Fairish cows, oxen and steers sold at from 5 to 6—one very good drove of steers and oxen, averaging 1200, changed hands at 5¾. Prime to extra fat retailing cattle sold at from 7½ to 8 cents—some few at 8½ to 8¾, though the number that sold above 8 cts was very small, and there was but very few sold even at that figure. Taking it all in all, the market was a very hard one for drovers, and it is altogether likely that some of them returned home with very diminished gains on what they expected—and many there were doubtless, who, to use a common expression, "did not get their money back."

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The offerings of Sheep were compartively limited this week, though the supply seemed to be up to the demand, which also, was somewhat restricted, but compared with last week, prices have have undergone but little or no change. We continue to quote prime fat retailing Sheep at 5¼ to 5¾ per pound, gross, while inferior to common cannot be quoted above 4 to 4¼. Lambs sold all the way from $2 to $4½ per head.

SWINE.

Market quiet and dull but unchanged—small sales in a retail way at $9 to $10 per cwt, gross. Round lots cannot be quoted above $8½ to $9¼ for fair to prime heavy averages.

REPORTED SALES OF CATTLE.

Irwin sold Glass & Lafferty 55 head of fairish steers and oxen, averaging 1200 lbs, at 5¾, and Glass & Lafferty retailed 66 head of mixed cattle at 4¾ to 6¾—55 head left over. J. B. Huff sold 22 head of very common cows and heifers to Horner & Bro. at 3.

Myers & Needy sold 12 head of fairish steers to Greenwald & Kahn, averaging 900, at 5¼; 24 head to Cassady & Co., averaging 900, at 5⅜; 22 head to same buyer, at 5,18¾; 22 head to same buyers, at 5¼; 26 head to Craft at 5, 6 head very common at 4½, and retailed 82 head at 5¼@8¼.

Marks & Traurman report having retailed 187 head at from 5¼ to 8¼, and Greenwald & Kahn 115 head at 5¼ to 8¼.

The Post's money article says: The stock market opened steady, but dull. Governments are in limited demand, but prices are steady, the 7-30's being more firm than the gold bearing bonds. Border State bonds are quiet. There are some inquiring for North Carolina 6's, at 50; for Missouri, at 89¼, and for Pacific issue, at 83⅛. New York bounty loan continues in favor and wanted, at 100¼. Railroads opened weak and closed with a feverish uneasy tone of feeling. In Northwestern there was a sudden break about noon, the price falling off to 52⅛. Bank shares are flat. Railroad bonds are firm.

Gold stocks without animation. Coal stocks are strong: Cumberland, 62¼; Wilkesbarre, 70; American, 70; Delaware and Hudson, 160; Atlantic Mail, 112; Union Navigation, 113¼. The loan market is easy and the rates are 3@4c on governments, and 5c on miscellaneous securities. LATEST.

The ease in money continues to increase and the supply is not only abundant but considerably in excess of the demand for speculative and legitimate purposes. Call loans range from 4@5 ₩ cent., but the great bulk of the business at lower rate. In the Discount market there is no change to notice, and prime short date paper is current at 5@6½ ₩ cent. There is not much activity in Foreign Exchange as importers generally are disposed to hold off for a few days. The market, however, remains very firm and prime bankers' bills are quoted at 109⅝@109¾ for sixty days' bills, and 110¼@110⅜ for short sight.

The gold market fell off this afternoon to 146 @146⅛, and remained at these figures until the close of the day. The Government securities are lower on the Five-Twenties of 1862, but are firm on all the other gold bonds, and also on the Seven-Thirty notes. The following were the closing prices at 4:30 p. m.: Registered '81, 113⅝@113⅞; coupon '81, 113⅞@114; 5-20 register ed '62, 100@100⅛; 5-20 coupon '62, 104@104⅛; 5-20 coupons '65, 101⅞@101⅝; do January and July, 108⅜@108⅝; 10-40 registered, 99⅞@100⅛; 10-40 coupons, 99⅞@100⅛.

The steamship shares are attracting more attention in view of the prospects for large dividends at no distant day. Pacific mail has been actively dealt in to-day at 28@234. Atlantic mail opened at 112 and sold up to 113¾, but afterwards reacted again to 112. The transactions in this stock have been heavy during the day. Union navigation is increasing in favor, and was quite active at the stock exchange at 113@113¾. The miscellaneous shares were all lower at the close of the day.

At the last open board, the railway market was a little lower in some respects, but generally steady.

After the board there was a better feeling generally in the market, with more demand for stocks, and higher prices were made in the lower hall. The market has been severely hammered to-day, but shows great recuperative powers. The following were the closing prices at 4:30 this afternoon: Ohio and Mississippi Certificates, 33⅜@33¾; Canton Company, 53⅛@55; Boston Water Power, 31⅝@32; Cumberland, 61⅝@61¾; New York Central, 118⅛@118⅜; Erie, 84⅛@84¼; Reading, 115⅝@116; Pittsburgh, 92⅜@92½; Toledo, 115⅝@119; Rock Island and Pacific, 110⅛@110¼; Northwestern, 56⅛@56¼; Northwestern preferred, 79⅛@79⅜; Fort Wayne, 109⅜@109½.

RIVER NEWS.

The river has risen rapidly since the date of our last report, and was swelling steadily last evening with about seven feet in the channel by the Monongahela, and eight feet three inches by the Allegheny marks. Thus far the rise has been mainly in the Alleghany, but as the recent rains appear to have been general, there will doubtless be a rise of some importance in the Monongahela. The weather yesterday was cloudy and raw, with indications favorable for more rain.

There has been quite a number of arrivals since Monday, including the Quickstep, R. C. Gray, Yorktown, Sherman, Waunaita, Silver Lake, Bellevernon, and Julia. All of the above boats, with the exception of the Julia and Yorktown, were detained at Glass House, being unable to get over.

The Ida Rees No. 2 left for Oil City last evening with an excellent trip, and our latest reports from that point yesterday afternoon reported the Allegheny rising with forty inches in the channel.

The Yorktown will go on the dock for repairs, and as she is not damaged very badly, we expect to see her at the main landing before long again, ready for business.

Capt. McCarty, late clerk of the Messenger, and who has been here for a few days visiting his family, was to have left for Cincinnati last evening. As already noticed in this paper, he has purchased the commanding interest in the Naugatuck, and will assume command at once.

The officers and crew of the Camelia left for Wheeling yesterday to bring up that steamer. She has been laid up at that point for some days past waiting for water.

The Bayard, Capt. Moore, will resume her place in the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg trade at once, leaving on Thursday (her regular day) at noon.

The swift and commodious low pressure steamer Quickstep, Capt. W. B. Donaldson, with Sam Barr, Jr., in the office, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving promptly at noon, and passengers and shippers should bear this fact in mind. This fine steamer having been placed to run regularly in the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati trade, we hope she will receive as she deserve, a good trip.

The staunch and reliable Minnie, Captain A. H. Shaw, will positively leave for St. Louis this afternoon. The Kate Robinson, Capt. Robt. Robinson, is next in turn after the Minnie, and will commence business at once.

The America, Capt. T. H. Golding, will positively leave for New Orleans this afternoon. She will be followed by the Armenia, Capt. A. C. McCallum.

Capt. W. S. Evans appears as much at home in the boat store business, as he did on the hurricane roof of a steamboat. He is ably assisted by Capt. D. S. H. Gilmore, and Mr. John B. Dallas. The new firm start in under very auspicious circumstances.

The Columbia, from Cincinnati, will probably reach here to-night or to-morrow.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Wednesday:

Bingham, late of the Memphis Bulletin, was among the Minneola's passengers for Memphis.......The Fleetwood reports a lumber boat sunk on the roof below Rome, where the towboat Clipper was sunk. The Louisville and Carrollton packet Gipsey, and Shamrock, bound from Cincinnati for St. Louis, collided opposite Madison, Indiana, on Friday evening. About six feet of one of the Gipsey's guards was torn off, while the Shamrock was compelled to go to the dock at Madison for repairs.........The funeral of Milt. G. Wheeler, an old and well-known river steward, will take place from his late residence to-day. He was taken sick at Evansville with typhoid fever, on the Silver Spray, and died soon after he was conveyed home from the boat.

Mr. Morris Dorsey, formerly of the Anna White, is in the city, and will take charge of the office of Captain Booth's steamer, the J. W. Garrett. Jimmy Stratton has left the Fleetwood and returned to his first love, the Cottage.

THE NEW

Spring and Summer Medicine.

FLUID EXTRACT

SARSAPARILLA,

COMBINED WITH

Iodide of Lime,

PREPARED FOR

G. W. PETTES, BOSTON,

BY

James R. Nichols & Co.

MANUFACTURING CHEMISTS,

MANUFACTURERS OF THE

ELIXIR PERUVIAN BARK

WITH

Protoxide of Iron,

Which has become so favorably known as a

Tonic and Restorative,

By Physicians and Invalids in all parts of the country.

The new preparation, "SARSAPARILLA IN A COMBINATION WITH IODIDE OF LIME," presents one of the most prompt alterative agents in a form capable of exerting full action upon the system, and this in minute and pleasant doses. It is conceded that the alterative, resolvent, or tonic effects of Iodine, are exerted most decidedly when associated with other alteratives, in combination; and the Sarsaparilla seems to fulfil perfectly all the favorable requisitions.

The first effect usually observed when "SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME" is taken, is an increase of appetite, showing that it has tonic properties of a marked character. Its alterative effects are manifest in its ready combination with the blood and tissues. Pale, scrofulous women and children improve rapidly under its use, and the vital functions assume a healthy condition.

It is admirably adapted to a large number of chronic or acute affections peculiar to children. It is suited to them, both by the mildness and efficiency of Medicinal effect and the pleasant, attractive form of the remedy. It may be given for a long period where constitutional influences are desired, and no repugnance, or disinclination to take the syrup, encountered. In White-Swellings, Hip-Joint Disease, and Distortions of the Spine, it should be given persistently, in moderate doses, until relief is obtained.

The accumulation of morbid matters in the system seems to become manifest and very troublesome. Lassitude, Headache, Boils, Costiveness, Loss of Appetite, Pains in the Joints, Indigestion, etc., are very common. Nothing ever devised is better adapted to exterminate or drive off these affections than this new combination of SARSAPARILLA WITH IODIDE OF LIME.

No preparation like it, or which approximates to it as an

has ever before been placed within the reach of invalids. Indeed, it is an entirely NEW and SCIENTIFIC combination in no respect resembling anything hitherto employed.

The opinion of medical men concerning it, the description of its chemical character, therapeutic value, manner of use, etc., are given in a circular, which can be had at the store of all first-class Druggists.
